An Editorial

On Becoming XXXIII

This week the Times becomes XXXIII. With the last issue, we ended 32 years of continuous publication in the City of Albany.

When the first issue appeared in the fall of 1935, there was an editorial entitled "A Reaffirmation." In it, the Times urged bus service between upper Solano and San Pablo Avenue, development of the waterfront, opening of Garfield Avenue without sacrificing other crossings, and lower taxes.

The publishers promised to provide a "weekly paper devoted to the City of Albany—first, last and always. The Times will wholeheartedly support any movement or organization which strives to boost Albany business firms and urges its readers to support local merchants."

In the news columns, it was reported that businessmen on San Pablo Avenue had asked to increase parking time from one to two hours (the Times was against two hour parking).

Ben Mowday was mayor; Cecil N. Lavers, city attorney; H.I. Dygert, engineer; H. W. Brewer, clerk, and Grace L. Higgins, treasurer.

The Chamber of Commerce was working hard to bring Mechanics Bank to town following the closing of American Trust Bank.

Arthur J. Kirkpatrick, superintendent of recreation, had been selected to arrange a citywide Christmas program.

There was a column, "The Rounder," written by "I. C. Yucumango," which mentioned Joe Villa and Joe Dagna and reported that Court Clerk Myrtle McLean had returned from a 10-day vacation.

Letters of congratulations and welcome from Joe Villa, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Walt Holland of American Legion post 292 were printed in that first issue, which was put together at the old office at 848 San Pablo Ave.

There were five classified advertisements.

Display ads were run by Albany Plumbing and Heating, Lennox Photo, Carlevaro's Shoe Store, Palm Gardens, Dr. A. Eugene Doss, C. N. Lavers, Albany YMCA, Hill Lumber, Albany Theatre, Albany Florist, SP Corner (Max Etingoff), James J. Ellis Co. mortuary, Solano Avenue Pharmacy and Villa's Market, "The Bright Spot on the Avenue."

In early issues it was noted that the Gerald Brownes welcomed a baby girl, Community Methodist Church might be forced to leave because of its huge debt (typically, local people started a drive to save it), a fund drive was under way for the Will Rogers Memorial, the Marin Dads' Barn Dance was a success, a new stag club was organized, and "those on relief in California number 626,717, which would fill a couple cities the size of Oakland."

Also gleaned from early issues: residents were debating whether Albany needed a pool, NRA and WPA were in full swing building the high school, the hospital was called "Humboldt Hospital," the Bay Bridge was under construction, Carlo Carlevaro's food market at 929 San Pablo was offering a free watermelon with each purchase of $1 or more, and Charles M. (Pop) MacGregor Days were a tradition.

Women in the news included May Ellis (Olson), who was elected first woman president of Albany Chamber of Commerce, and the late Bea Raymond, who spearheaded the successful effort to bring Mechanics Bank to town and was instrumental in the selection of Albany as the site of the U.S. Department of Agriculture Regional Lab.

Publisher Ila Mae Wilson moved the Times to its present location at 1240-42 Solano in 1939. There had been a meat market at 1242 Solano and a grocery store at 1240.

Every week for 32 years the Times has continued to report the activities of a busy little city, which has prospered and grown in that time.

All of us at the Albany Times, looking forward to the beginning of the 33rd year in Albany, wish to thank all the people through the years who have supported and displayed their confidence in the Times. May we always be worthy of that support and confidence.

BART Investigation Plan Of Alameda County Mayors

Alameda County Mayors Conference, meeting last Wednesday in Oakland, called for an investigation of the finances of Bay Area Rapid Transit District.

The action, welcomed by BART General Manager B. R. Stokes and the conference's two delegates on BART's board, William Godfrey and George Silliman, came at the end of a session which began with dinner and was adjourned at 11:20 p.m.

In a package motion by San Leandro Mayor Jack Maltester and passed, Hayward Mayor Jack Smith and Oakland Mayor John Reading were named to a 12-member, three-county committee to discuss the financial needs of BART, report to the State Legislature in January and conduct an investigation of possible mismanagement of BART funds.

Dr. Dean Hoskins, Mayor of Piedmont, said that one of the problems is the matter of confidence in BART. People want to know if the money is being spent as economically and as efficiently as possible.

To this, Stokes replied, "As general manager, I'm sick and tired of innuendoes by the press and in some segments of the Bay Area being made on a construction program which has been subject to more scrutiny than any project in history. If there are questions, don't shirk... Call in the FBI because federal funds are involved... Get grand juries and City Councils but do it in a one month period so we can get on with our business!"

Godfrey said, "If Stokes has a fault, it is trying to explain in detail this can of worms... The Board is committed to 75 miles and the staff has recommended 37 miles of core system and go until the money is exhausted... I have never been involved in anything as exciting as BART. The staff is above reproach, has done an exemplary job, eats, drinks and dreams BART. I invite an investigation, which will

Council Passes Emergency Cabaret Ordinance Monday

Albany City Council Monday night unanimously adopted an amended version of an emergency cabaret ordinance prepared by City Attorney Larry Saler (see ordinance on page 5).

Taken out of the original ordinance was a list of items concerning each employee which the Chief of Police could ask the employer, together with the stipulation that a picture of each employee be provided.

The amendment was approved 4-1 with Councilman Joe Carlevaro voting no on the grounds that Council had no idea what was in mind when that section was included. Councilmen remarked that the ordinance would give them a starting point and could be changed later if the need arose.

Referred to a work session following an hour-long public hearing is the proposed modification of the Business License Ordinance. Only two people spoke at the hearing: Locksmith Louis Bell and William A. Johnson, attorney and president of the Chamber of Commerce, who spoke as an individual.

Council expects increased revenue amounting to $7,000 by modifying the scale for business licenses. About $2,000 would come from increasing the present $20 to $25 and the rest from increasing various categories, most of whom do not contribute to the

the Sweetest Week promotion, which will be the week of Oct. 21.

MRS. NOTELY of California Hospitality Service called about our Newcomers' Club item last week and during the conversation reported that 300 or more new families move to Albany each year, exclusive of University Village. Isn't that a rather startling number?

EVERYONE WE KNOW who has given up smoking has shared a common three-letter problem: FAT. Kicking the habit results in an automatic weight increase of anywhere from 15 to 35 pounds. Apparently doctors, psychiatrists and scientists are busy investigating who is able to quit smoking, how they have been able to do it and their chances of continued success. Why don't they concentrate on the one thing that drives more people back to weeds than any other factor?

city in the way of sales taxes.

City officials defended the proposed increase. Councilman George Hein pointed out that Berkeley licenses are $30 and El Cerrito's, $25. Councilman Lewis Howell said Council is only trying to distribute the costs of operating the city between businessmen and homeowners.

Mayor Richard Clark said the property tax rate has been decreased by 17 cents. "If we eliminate, where are we going to pick it up? In four months of budget hearings, real estate people, the Chamber of Commerce or any other group never provided an answer."

Although Johnson said he thought this was a roundabout way of coming back and picking up the taxes from those who were supposed to be benefiting, he promised that the Chamber

There will be no trains until the full system is built. . . . Ten years, five years from now, we'll wonder what we were fighting about tonight."

Stokes told mayors it was important to complete the investigation by next month, when contracts come up for work beyond the core system.

Clark said Council is trying to make equal that which should have been made equal a long time ago.

Johnson said the Chamber had favored increasing business licenses with the extra money going into a fund for off-street parking.

Clark pointed out there is about $9,000 in the budget this year for a survey of parking along Solano and San Pablo.

Councilman Joe Carlevaro said money may be needed to fight BCDC in court or for other unexpected emergencies. "If we can't get help among our own citizens, where are we going to get it?"

Councilman H. F. Call said there are many inequities among business licenses, adding that the business license for barber shops did not go up when the price of haircuts did, nor has there been any increase despite general increases in the prices of everything. He said there are many "piggy-backers" in Albany who do not participate in the Chamber of Commerce and are not helping to carry the load. "These are the squawkers," he said.

After the hearing was closed, Howell suggested putting the proposal for off-street parking before the voters in the April election. "They elected us to spend their money. I'd like to see how they feel." No action was taken on his proposal.

In other matters, Clark reported that there is little likelihood that Albany's applications for federal funds for urban beautification or the demonstration grant for a linear park south of Solano will be granted. He said representatives of HUD have urged Albany to revise its application with a request for help to underground utilities. Of the cost of $52,000, the federal government would supply $15,840, if approved.

Clark said he is planning to write Congressman Jeffery Cohelan to complain about the inequities of the linear park which has been approved along the BART right-of-way through all of El Cerrito and half of Albany. Albany will receive $82,000 and El Cerrito, $400,000, but the right of way in El Cerrito goes through commercial areas and is backed by apartments.

"You'd have to jump a fence to get to the park in many cases," he said, comparing Albany's frontage of residences plus the Pre-School, Senior Citizen Center and the hospital.

Resolutions passed set forth holiday pay when the holiday falls on Saturday and amended the salary resolution 67-83 to provide for increases for Park and Recreation Dept. personnel: Superintendent E. J. Rooney, from $850 to $900 per month; Community Center Director Don Dupin from $578 to $600 with a $50 increase Jan. 1, and Secretary Ruby Helen Fricke, from $593 to $600.

It was noted that Gil Freels has been selected chairman and Burton Lewis vice chairman of the Albany Civil Service Board.

Councilman Howell commended Officer Gerald Martin for starting Junior Traffic Patrol training programs on the first day of school.

Filed was a notice from Greyhound Lines that they hope to discontinue reduced-rate commuter fares. Referred to a work session next Monday was an Assembly Joint Resolution concerning Federal Tax sharing.

All resolutions passed last week (see story on page 7) passed unanimously as did one which authorized execution of an agreement with the Armed Forces concerning medical rejectee examinations.

Dario Meniketti commended Council on deleting the section from the cabaret ordinance. The meeting adjourned at 10:05 p.m.

JEROME BLANK REALTY

Right This Minute!

Right this minute, someone in Albany is living in a crowded home, with one bathroom, and wishing they could be living in a 3 bedroom home with 2 baths, and a rumpus room where their teen-aged children can entertain their high school friends — out of sound-range from the mature members of the family. (How many minutes can you stand that ear-splitting Hi-Fi playing their latest combo?) Well, here is your opportunity! On Albany Hill, we've a marvelous ranch style home, with level entrance, featuring 2 bedrooms and 1 bath upstairs, 1 bedroom and bathroom down plus a downstairs rumpus room with a fireplace. Altogether 3 bedrooms, 2 baths. It's priced really right, and we can take that older, crowded, cramped home in trade on our Trade-In Plan. Why suffer now—start living today. Call for details.

Soft . . .

From the minute you tread the entry hall carpet, and your feet sink deep into the plush fibers of the new wall-to-wall carpet, you'll feel that comfortable feeling that tells you you're home. With central entry there's no need to use the living room or dining room as a passageway. Central heat assures smooth, even heat throughout the home. Break-fast in the breakfast room, dine in the dining room, barbecue in the rear patio, with floodlight. Live in this lovely Albany home near the Plaza. Vacant, ready for immediate occupancy. Evenings, Mr. Headington, 524-7796.

Albany Cottage

Neat 2 bedroom rustic bungalow, leased at $120 per month, in fine multiple-zoned area. Priced at moderate $13,500. Ideal for investor. Shows terrific return, equity-building, tax shelter. Evenings, Mr. Headington, 524-7796.

Near Memorial Park

A really delightful 3 bedroom home with 1½ baths, small lot with neat yard. Kitchen and bath modernized, Spanish style exterior. Probably the most house for the money in upper Albany, at just $21,950. Easily financed. Call for details.

the instruments as well as trained personnel to cope with this type emergency for the protection of the public.

It is anticipated that the next course to be presented by the local Fire Department will be a pre-employment class for those wishing to make the fire department a career. Fire Chief Gerald
D. Browne stated that this is a great opportunity for anyone desiring information in examina-related to the fire service. The course will be taught by mem-

Petris Criticizes Reagan Veto of AB504

Senator Nicholas C. Petris (Alameda County) vigorously criticized Governor Ronald Reagan for vetoing AB504 (by Assemblyman John Miller—D-17th district) which would have reimposed the City of Albany for the loss of property tax revenue caused by the exemption of the University Village in Albany.

Berkeley Police Captain to Address High 12

The speaker to address the Albany High Twelve club this Friday noon in the Banquet Room will be Capt. Jewel Ross of the Berkeley Police Department.

The topic will be "Twenty Five Years in 250 Days." Ross, having recently returned from a tour, will tell of his investigations of police procedures in countries he visited. He will show pictures of places he saw. Capt. Ross will be introduced by Sgt. Herbert Rounds of the Berkeley Police Department.

Club President Fred K. Beeson expects an 80 per cent attendance at this outstanding program and a large number of Mason guests.

"For several years, the entire Alameda County delegation has worked hard to provide this vital job needed help to the City of Albany. John Miller did a great job in steering this bill through both houses and was the first legislator from Alameda County able to obtain passage. The City of Albany has been operating under a very unfair burden imposed by the loss of local property taxes without any reimbursement from the State of California," Senator Petris said.

"Our only hope now is to try again in the next legislative session to get this bill through and persuade the Governor to sign it," Petris added.

Co-owned by Bill Brumder and Frank Cameron, the sparkling new eatery boasts 50 off-street parking spaces and serves food to go or to be eaten there. Hamburgers and chicken, at highly reasonable prices, are the specialty. (Story and picture next week.)

Soroptimists to Hear Convention Report Today

Soroptimist Delegates Miriam Gilsenan and Antoinette Stallone

Albany Soroptimist delegates to the International Convention in Toronto will report to fellow members at the noon luncheon meeting today at Serb's.

Antoinette Stallone and Miriam Gilsenan have returned from a combined pleasure and business trip to Canada and the East Coast and will describe their experiences. Program Chairman Jackie Pond has announced.

According to Miss Stallone, 1,600 executive and professional women attended the Soroptimist convention from all over the world. Delegates vowed to work for the betterment and advancement of women in all countries and to take an active part in the programs of their own countries.

Violet Richardson Ward, first charter president when the Soroptimist club was founded in Oakland, attended the convention, Miss Stallone reports.

Soroptimists are getting ready to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the founding of the organization.

While in Toronto, the Albany Soroptimists saw "The Inspector General" at Stratford on Avon, built and landscaped identically to the one in England. They visited Niagara Falls, toured Expo '67 in Montreal and then went to New York City where they stayed at the home of Miss Stallone's cousin, Attorney John B. Cartafalsa and his family.

Their host took them to Washington, D.C. for three days. There they lunched in the Congressmen's restaurant and the capitol and toured the FBI. They watched the changing of the guards at the grave of the Unknown Soldier and saw the grave of the late President John F. Kennedy. Other high points were visits to Mt. Vernon, Georgetown, the Catholic Shrine of the Immaculate Conception, a session of Congress, the National Museum and Archives, the Supreme Court building and the White House.

Matrons, Patrons Honored Friday

Past Matrons and Patrons of Albany chapter 550, Order of Eastern Star, will attend a party in their honor at Albany Temple, 533 San Pablo Ave., Friday, Sept. 15, at 8 p.m.

Worthy Matron Clara Goldman and Worthy Patron George Wendover will host the affair. Past Matrons, Ruby Wilcox and Thelma Moss, are co-chairmen. Their party plans have an Oriental theme, in decorations, favors and entertainment. Associate Matron Tilda Cameron is in charge of the Banquet Room. Visiting members are welcome.

What Council Did Last Week

In a 35-minute session last Tuesday night, Albany City Council:

Appointed Mrs. Doris Klingelhofer as temporary acting head librarian; filed a letter from Albany Bay committee offering suggestions for waterfront planning; supported the City of San Pablo's resolution that Rapid Transit should complete the entire 75-mile system promised voters in 1962;

Heard Councilman Joe Carriavaro name Stan Young of 631 Spokane as temporary chairman and Yvonne Walkup as secretary for the Sister City committee; agreed with Councilman Lewis Howell that Council should take some action to regulate the operation of cabarets and places of entertainment in the city, unanimously passed his motion to request the City Attorney to prepare an emergency ordinance on the issue;

Filed a letter from the state director of Little League baseball, commending Albany on its program; requested the mayor to set a work session on Police Chief Ralph Jensen's request for a police pistol range on a portion of the landfill;

Approved permanent appointment of Thomas E. Brennan as captain in the Fire Department and Frank E. Westphal as hoseman.

Because of delays in completing the revenue picture in Albany, Council directed that before any major expenditures are made, department requests be submitted to the City Council for approval.

Former Councilman Joel Parker, Jr., expressed opposition to financing Bay Area Rapid Transit by imposing an increase of 10 cents on bridge fares and commended Council and the Public Works Department on the resurfacing and street repairs as well as the installation of signals at Santa Fe and Marin.

LETTERS

Editor, the Times:

Many people have commented on the excellent publicity our recent Pancake Breakfast received in the Times. For this coverage you have the grateful thanks of the Albany Republican Assembly.

I would, also, like to thank all members and friends who helped work on the breakfast and all of our thanks to all the pleasant citizens who attended the event.

In addition to those mentioned in previous publicity, I wish to thank Ellis-Olson Mortuary for printing the tickets, Super Stop Market for storing perishable food overnight, and Cortese Pharmacy and Troy and Nellie Lyon for donations.

MRS. SHIRLEY PARR
Acting President
Albany Republican Assembly

Editor, the Times:

Every Albany resident experienced a very bad defeat when Governor Reagan vetoed AB504. The city has been generous in providing very many community services for those who reside in the University Village.

The inequities in our education costs could have been remedied had Governor Reagan recognized the financial imbalance which now exists in our community.

One can only ask at this time, how long must the established Albany resident and taxpayer continue to carry more than his fair share of the cost of those who reside in the Village. These students deserve the best education they can get. But, in addition to an academic education, the educational experience of financially participating in the social expenses of our time should be required.

I am sure that those who live in the Village object to being called freeloaders. Certainly a letter or petition of those in the Village to Governor Reagan would be most helpful in proving once and for all to permanent Albany residents that they do not want to be considered leeches on our community, and who do, in fact, believe that a broader tax base should be used to support the educational cost now being carried solely by the Albany taxpayer.

In the absence of any strong concern and involvement by those who reside in the Village, our City Council, and our Board of Education, should give serious thought toward making changes in its relationship between the City and the University Regents.

There are many ways a taxpayer can protest to these inequities, if action is not taken by the Regents, the Governor, or the Legislature. Let's hope that a broader base for educational expenses can be developed before serious division develops between the community and the University.

Sincerely,
LEON RIMOV

PRIEST DIES AS RESULT OF CLEVELAND ACCIDENT

The Roman Catholic priest who was to have officiated at the postponed wedding of his friend, William McComb of San Pablo, and who was one of the six young men painfully injured in the Aug. 25 accident at the Cleveland Ave. off-ramp in Albany, died early Sunday in Brookside hospital of a blood clot.

The Rev. Charles M. Ruloph, SDB, 29, was not identified as a priest in the original accident story in the Times at the request of the intended bridegroom, his friend since boyhood.

He had been ordained in March and had celebrated his first Solemn Mass two months ago. He had planned to officiate at the Aug. 26 wedding of McComb, who postponed it until Sept. 23 in hopes all accident victims would be released from hospitals by that time.

Father Ruloph was confined to Brookside with severe facial cuts, broken jaw, broken cheek and shattered hip.

He had been living at Salesian High school in San Pablo while awaiting transfer to a teaching position at St. Mary's School in Edmonton, Alberta, Canada.

A lifelong member of St. Paul's church, which the group of young men had just left Aug. 25 en route to Albany following the wedding rehearsal, he had celebrated his first Mass at that church after his ordination in Turin, Italy, on March 18.

Ryan's Funeral Home at 34th and MacDonal, Richmond, is in charge of funeral arrangements. Requiem Mass will be celebrated at 7:30 tonight at St. Paul's church in San Pablo, followed by the recitation of the Rosary. Concelebrated Requiem Mass will be celebrated at 11 a.m. Thursday at St. Paul's with interment at Salesian cemetery, Richmond.

His body will lie in state at St. Paul's from 2:30 today until the Mass begins tomorrow morning.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Ruloph of San Pablo and 12 brothers and sisters, including the driver of the car, James Ruloph, who suffered facial cuts in the accident.

Donations are being accepted by Salesian High school for a memorial plaque in tribute to Father Ruloph's work with youth.

Mayor Clark Booked by Soroptimists

His Honor Mayor Richard O. Clark, will speak to the Soroptimist Club of Albany at their luncheon meeting on Wednesday, Sept. 27, 12:15 p.m. at Serb's Restaurant on San Pablo Ave. His topic will be "Bay Fill."

President Jane Stamps has extended an invitation to any Albany residents who might be interested. Miss Joneva Pond is vice president and program chairman of the club.

'Dangerous Intersection' -- Cleveland Off-Ramp

SOUTHBOUND VEHICLES planning to come to Albany often run into trouble at this abrupt stop sign at the intersection of the freeway off-ramp and Cleveland Avenue. The curb at left is black with tire marks indicating drivers were going too fast when they left the freeway. According to the California Highway Patrol, there have been 11 accidents at this intersection in the past year. Most recently, a car load of young men from San Pablo plowed through the ice plant at left and piled up near the railroad track (arrow). One died as a result. Police Chief Ralph Jensen said he complained about the intersection but was told it is better to have a right angle intersection than a sweeping curve. The sign on the freeway indicates a speed limit of 15 miles per hour, but the sign is small and there is no warning of a stop sign almost dead ahead—which is what almost certainly will happen to drivers if something isn't done.
